FOREWORD

The Cavalcade staff of 1960 presents an Abstraction in Green.

Green symbolizes life, newness, growth, and freshness. Because of these connotations of green, we have chosen it to represent your experiences at Clovis High. Your career on this campus, filled with new experiences both in the realm of knowledge and in the social world, has disclosed to you the many opportunities life offers.

It is our hope that through this book you will be reminded of the achievements and pleasures that have combined to make your life at Clovis High one that will bring back pleasant memories.

LOUANN-

To you, Mr. Harley Freeman, we

MR. HARLEY FREEMAN

We the class of 1960 proudly announce that this year's Cavalcade is dedicated to a man whose sterling qualities are reflected in our school activities. He has given unstintingly of his time and talents to arouse spirit and enthusiasm for good old Clovis High. Under his direction half-times during football seasons for the last seven years have been outstanding in every respect; and spirit at basketball games has been perked up by the Pep Band's spirited music. Each year he has devoted many after-school hours in preparation for our Golden Cougar Band's participation in the All Western Band Revue at Long Beach. He also co-supervises our Majorettes and Letter Girls, and accordingly, they too have become outstanding in our league. He has cheerfully co-operated with our Pep Girls and Yell Leaders in planning and presenting rallies. The annual spring Band Show, Mardi Gras, was a huge success largely due to his efforts. In short, everywhere there is music, there is our band director; and to you, Mr. Harley Freeman, we dedicate the Cavalcade of 1960.

Mr. Freeman and friend talk things over.

The band practices for another outstanding halftime performance.

MR. WILLIAM T. ATKIN
Superintendent

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." This thought expressed by one of our ancients, was and still is an excellent bit of philosophical thinking. To a very large degree we are now what once we hoped to be. Successful and happy living rarely comes about by accident.

The time of youth is the formative period. Much of the success or failure of later life will be built upon foundations laid while you are young. Your setting up of worthwhile goals, your establishment of constructive and uplifting habits of thought will lead to a successful life.

Congratulations to a most excellent senior class upon your graduation. I have every confidence that you will succeed and you have my best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

W. T. Atkin

MR. LLOYD MERRIMAN

"Wisdom is the principal thing: therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting, get understanding." These words written nearly 3,000 years ago are a continuous challenge to every student. The ability to judge soundly and to deal keenly with facts is a quality greatly to be sought after. Fortunate indeed is the person who while striving for a scholastic accolade can also become imbued with a desire to understand the needs of his fellow students and this world of which we are a part.

It is the concern of the Board of Trustees that students of Clovis Union High School may achieve these worthy goals.

Office staff keeps Clovis High machinery running

MRS. DOROTHA SMITH, besides being secretary to Mr. Theiler, comes in contact with many students issuing parking permits, and publishing the daily bulletin. She also works closely with our student body officers as they come in to confer with Mr. Theiler.

MR. JOHN HANSON, our accountant, handles the purse strings with integrity and efficiency. C.U.H.S. students meet this friendly and helpful man through club and student body finances. He also issues shop cards and purchase orders. Mr. Hanson handles these and many other tasks with a smile.

JEAN MEYERS, as Mr. Atkin's secretary, takes care of all his correspondence. As District Secretary, she is in charge of preparing all inter-district permits and all the other business of the school district. She handles all the correspondence for the board of trustees. Among her many other duties, she processes all Clovis High mail and issues work permits.

MRS. RUTH BELL, as a general secretary in the student office, has various duties to perform. Students come to her for bus permits and guest permits for school functions. She also issues off-campus permits and ties up other loose ends in the attendance office.

MRS. JENNY MORRIS, whom many students have seen in the attendance office, handles all tardies and absences. Her efficient methods keep things up to date all day and make her an indispensable part of the school machinery.

MRS. DOROTHY DAVIS keeps permanent business records, and administers those horrid things called report cards. She is also Mr. Kastner's secretary. The students come in contact with her pleasant personality when they apply for petitions for student body office. She delves into her records and checks to see if our grade averages are high enough to make us eligible to run for office.

Administrators, counselors, the librarian, and the

MR. GEORGE KASTNER, Principal

Congratulations to the Class of 1960 and the staff of the Cavalcade. Your devotion to duty has resulted in an excellent year for you all. As you reflect on the past four years, the time has literally flown. Realizing the swiftness by which time actually passes, I urge you all to continue your education. All of you may not be in a position to continue your education in a formal manner, but there is no real place in our government for the uneducated. All of you will have additional opportunities available to increase your learning. As individuals and as a group, continue to strive to seek true knowledge. Again, congratulations and best wishes to you all.

George Kastner

You (the seniors) are part of an important group who have succeeded in reaching one of the steps to success in your lifetime. Approximately forty percent of all students nationally, who enter high school, fail to reach graduation. This success calls for greater responsibility on your part to make our great American Democracy work and thrive. This responsibility is measured by your participation in community civic affairs and state and national affairs. Do a good job in everything you do and be worthy of the nation's praise; and my wish is for your success and happiness in your personal lives.

Robert Theiler

MR. ROBERT THEILER, Vice-Principal

MR. JACK HOWARD, Vice-Principal

One of the most valued and cherished reminders of the happy moments spent at Clovis High School will be found while reminiscing through the pages of your school annual, the Cavalcade. Here, you will find recorded in picture and prose, the many wonderful facets of school life. You will look back, as the years pass, with a deep feeling of nostalgia, upon the days, which at the time, seemed perhaps to move slowly, but in retrospect you will realize, vanished all too rapidly.

To the staff, congratulations are in order for a job well done in keeping the spirit of the yearbook tradition alive at Clovis High School. Appreciation for your work will commence now and continue to grow as time passes.

MRS. MARION GAINES. Most of the girls at Clovis High have met Mrs. Gaines at one time or another. Always ready to lend a hand to anyone who needs it, Mrs. Gaines has always been a favorite at our school. Besides being a friend, she keeps us informed about scholarships, graduation requirements, and any other academic matters that concern us.

MR. BOB GROSS. Mr. Gross, the head counselor, does an excellent job of solving the students' problems. He is more than willing to do everything possible for them. His official duties are to organize and coordinate the guidance program.

MISS KATHLEEN BOLING. Without Miss Boling our library would not be quite the same. She keeps it neat, clean, and useful, and is always willing to help any student find what he is looking for. Besides her contacts with the students, she receives, marks, and distributes all text books.

MRS. LAURA FISK. A large percentage of the students don't see Mrs. Fisk very often. She is usually busy easing someone's misery or checking on health conditions around the school. Mrs. Fisk is one person with whom everyone should be acquainted, not just for medical reasons, but also because she is a delightful person to know.

the threshold of the leadership of America

The class of 1960 has left its impression on Clovis High. As we leave our dear old alma mater we look back at the past four years with nostalgia.

Our Freshman year was a little frightening at first, but not for long. Led by our officers — Lupe Gonzales, Becky Charlesworth, Linda Wells, Carolyn Blodgett, and JoAnne Plog — and pepped by our yell leaders — Yvonne Doolittle, Linda Johnson, and Nanci Mosekian — we began the year with the Reception Dance, where we all got acquainted.

Then, suddenly, we were not beginners any more. With our old officers (Lupe, Becky, and Carolyn) and two new cheer leaders — Blossom Gipson and Sue Schroeder — we sold ice cream at the football games, put on the best assembly of the year and moved into our bright new cafeteria, and eight new classrooms. This was the year the varsity football team figured in a three-way tie for the league championship. We picked out and ordered our Junior rings and prepared to become upperclassmen.

Since any Junior class has many activities, we elected leaders who we were sure would be capable of mapping out and organizing this action-packed year efficiently. For president there was Ronnie Brumley; for vice-president, Sue Turner; for secretary-treasurer, Linda Rossi; and for yell leaders, Blossom Gipson and Bruce Hensley. This was prom year, so we had to make money. We sold coffee, doughnuts, apples, banners, and megaphones. Then we put on "Seventeenth Summer," which helped quite a bit and was a big success, too. Sporting charcoal-gray sweaters and shiny new rings, we waited impatiently for next year.

Three years had passed since we first entered Clovis High, and now we were about to leave. At the beginning of our Senior year we selected officers — Lupe for president, Alvin Gould for vice-president, Betty Flynn for secretary-treasurer, and Jeanne Cox and Leanna Kojigian for yell leaders. Then our activities began.

On Career Day we all went to Reedley and learned about vocations. Since we were going to have many expenditures this year (Ditch Day, Luncheon, stone, personalized yearbooks), we had to have money. For this we sold soft drinks, held after-game dances, and put on a play called "The Little Dog Laughed." As the year rolled past and graduation came near, we became involved in more activities. There were cap and gown fittings, ordering and sending out cards and announcements, days of graduation practice, baccalaureate, and, finally, graduation itself and the Hallelujah Hop.

The final days of our last high school year float past in a blurred panorama of memories, old friends, and bustling activities. Goodbye, Alma Mater! Goodbye!

Various committees help make the

Judy Thomas
math-science plaque winner

Carolyn Blodgett
vocational arts plaque winner

These students were selected to represent the various departments in an award contest sponsored by the Bank of America. The departments are English, social science, and foreign language in the liberal arts field; math and science in their field; music and art in the fine arts field; and business, agriculture, industrial arts, and homemaking in the vocational arts field. Each candidate received a certificate for having been chosen to compete. The school's winners were awarded plaques, and went on to compete with other schools in the central California region in a panel discussion held at Selma.

to Clovis by top seniors

Brian Gardner and Pat McEvoy, along with many other seniors, took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test during the junior year. Although neither of the boys qualified for a scholarship, both have received certificates of commendation which will help them when they apply for college entrance.

Christy Wild and Ron Brumley are well known around campus for their student government activities. In the summer of 1959 they were sent to the American Legion Auxiliary-sponsored conventions: Christy to Girls State at the Davis Campus of the University of California, and Ronnie to Boys State at the Sacramento state fair grounds. The conventions, held annually, give California high school students a chance to learn about our state government firsthand by participating in a mock government.

Sue Schroeder, CUHS contestant for the Daughters of the American Revolution award, was picked by the faculty from three contestants elected by the senior girls. Sue participated in an essay contest after taking a test in government drafted by the DAR and given here at Clovis, in which she placed first in Region V, a region of eight counties. She has been awarded the title of Good Citizen of the Year.

On June 21, 1960, the National Forensics League will sponsor a National Debate Tournament to be held in San Diego. The central California representatives to this tournament will be our own Judy Thomas and David Bowen. Working as a team, they competed in a debate contest held at Fresno City College to win the honor of being the central California representatives.

CALIFORNIA STATE SCHOLARSHIP QUALIFIERS. Row 1: Pat McEvoy, Brian Gardner. Row 2: Ken Paull, Julie DeHaven, Richard Irwin.

These five students have qualified for scholarships up to six hundred dollars given annually by the State of California. The scholarships are based on achievement on the SAT test, the applicant's grades, and need. They are for use at any accredited California college or university.

Junior class is led with enthusiasm

Al Uribe, president

John Henrichs, vice-president

Lenore McGee, secretary-treasurer

Upperclassmen at last, the juniors spent an active year preparing for campus leadership as seniors. The class of '61 selected for their officers the most capable members of their class. These leaders guided the Juniors through an eventful year backed by the entire class and aided by committee members. The highlights of the year were their distinctive class rings, received in the fall; the Junior play, "Meet Corliss Archer"; and the delightful Junior-Senior Prom.

Coach Lloyd Leest's Clovis Cougars ended the season with a two wins, five losses record in League play. With this showing our Cougars finished in a tie with Fresno High for fifth place.

The Cougars started the season by losing a close one to Sanger 13-7. In their second outing the Cougars fought off a strong Selma team to a 13-13 tie. Then started League competition. Our Cougars won their opening League game against Merced 14-13. From then on our Cougars had a rough road, losing to Roosevelt and Madera by one touchdown. Finally our Cougars came through, stomping McLane 30-0 to win their second League game. Moving to McLane stadium for the last two games, the Cougars lost two highly contested battles to Edison and Fresno High.

These varsity football players fought hard to win the game.

This year's "B" team had a highly successful season. The Cubs came out third in the league. The Cubs were strong in the backfield with Tommy Turner running the ball and John Douglas clearing the path. Leonard Myers, a freshman, came along fine at the end of the season, and should do a lot with the Varsity in the coming years. The Cub line was anchored by Jim Balestra, Gary Schaeffer, and Manuel Vega. Coach Lee termed offensive end Henry Ford as, "The finest offensive end he had ever seen or coached in 'B' football." The Cubs again had a successful season.

The Clovis High Varsity basketball team has had a very successful season. The Cougars had an eight-win, six-loss record in league play. Opening league play against McLane, the Cougars came through with a victory, led by Allen McCutchen. After losing the next two games to Fresno and Edison, Clovis bounced back by winning three consecutive victories against the Ballard, Madera, and Merced teams.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Coach Frank Anderson

The Junior Varsity basketball team won three games and lost eight games, against strong Yosemite League competition. Five of the losses came with a total of eight points; one game by three points, one by two points, and three by one point each. Coached by Frank Anderson, the J.V.'s gained much experience as future varsity cagers.

Cross Country Team

Coach Hank Roldan

The Clovis Union High School cross country team has had a good season considering that this is the first year we have had such a team. The team participated in only the league and valley finals. One of the leading men on the varsity team was Ethan Hett who placed 15th in the valley finals. Heading the sophomore-freshman teams was John Armenta. As a whole, the team stood up well against strong Northern Yosemite League competition. Powerful teams and a good year are in sight for the 1960 season.

As the Cougars look forward to a fine year, they sport a 2-2 NYL record. After opening with a victory at McLane, a hard defeat came at the hands of the Warriors of Fresno High. The team then won at home against Edison, but lost a close one 2-1 to Bulard. Bob Randolph has a 5-1 record to get his senior year off to a fine start. With a little more hitting the Cougars will be in the thick of the league race.

Clovis began tennis in October this year and posted its first win over Tranquillity, the North Sierra 1959 champions, 10 to 2. Since then, the Cougars net squad has garnered 28 wins as against 3 losses, all losses coming at the hands of the Tulare High Redskins. Clovis defeated this year such teams as, Mt. Whitney, Tulare once, Selma, Hanford, Wasco, and every league champion team in the valley except the winner of the South Yosemite who Clovis did not play. In addition, the Clovis netters went undefeated in the North Yosemite League, taking the 1960 championship, the first varsity championship Clovis has earned in its four year old membership in the North Yosemite League. Individually, the Clovis High tennisiers achieved well. The mixed doubles team of Larry Bolli and Karen Dennison won first in the valley in the Selma Invitational and the Tulare Invitational, our boys and girls doubles teams placing third, and our singles players fourth in the above tournaments.

Clovis can well be proud of the 1960 edition of the tennis team. Certainly the most outstanding in the history of CUHS, having been beaten by only one team in the Valley. According to coach Thorpe, this year's team is one of the best teams ever fielded by any San Joaquin Valley high school.

The G.A.A. was organized to give interested girls a chance to participate actively in athletics — a chance which they would be denied without the friendly cooperation between the school and the club. They meet every Tuesday after school. During the year they have several play days which give the girls a chance to compete with girls from other schools. Other activities of the year are the Calypso Sadie Dance and the annual snow party.

This year's F.H.A. members enjoyed a wide variety of activities which helped them in their search for better homemaking methods. Among these activities were a Spring Section 8 Meeting and a state convention at Asilomar, at which two delegates represented the club. Their more local activities included a fall installation party, held jointly with the Young Homemakers, and a May potluck and swimming party, at which next year's officers were elected.

For the first time in the history of Clovis High the Cougar's Growl was published weekly. Each Friday the students waited in anticipation of receiving their award-winning newspaper. Editor Bob Simpson and his staff of eleven worked unceasingly to produce a high quality paper representative of the Clovis High student body.

Another first in journalism this year was the introduction of the cub reporters to Cougar's Growl. The staff trained the cubs in the production of the high quality newspaper, preparing the cubs for the large job of putting out the Growl next year.

Band

The C.U.H.S. Golden Cougar Band plays at all football games and marches in numerous parades. They also go annually to the Long Beach All-Western Band Revue, and this year they went to the Cal-Oregon football game at Berkeley. One of their outstanding activities here at school is the annual Band Show presented in the spring. This performance always draws capacity crowds.

Letter Girls and Yell Leaders

Bruce Hensley and Linda Johnson, first semester Varsity assistant yell leaders; Jan Barber, head yell leader; Sheri Clark and Bruce Dawson, second semester Varsity assistant yell leaders.

The purpose of the letter girls is to provide a banner in front of the band. In this capacity they accompanied our Golden Cougar Band to parades, the Cal-Oregon game, to the Fresno County Fair, and to Long Beach. They contribute much color and style to our marching band. Also, they perform at halftimes and rallies throughout the year.

Penny Docker, Mary Mechem, and Patty Docker, assistant "B" yell leaders.

The student body yell leaders are the backbone of school spirit. Their duties are to work with the rally club in planning rallies, to supervise and lead our rooting section at games, and to boost our teams.

Pep Girls and Majorettes

The pep girls represent Clovis High at parades and games. Their routines add color and spice to rallies and halftimes. They performed in the N.Y.L. welcome assembly for two new members of the League. Their performances enhanced both the P.T.A. Variety Show and our Student Body Assembly.

Clovis High's majorettes add glitter to rallies and halftime performances during the football and basketball seasons. They accompanied the band to the Cal-Oregon game, to the Fresno County Fair, and twirled in parades and assemblies. This talented quintet placed fifth in twirling competition at the Long Beach All Western Band Revue.

The Hi Liters of C.U.H.S. is an outstanding group. Its many appearances have brought much fame to Clovis High. Its melodious strains have entertained us on such occasions as the Feast of Lights, the Veteran's Day Assembly, and the Christmas Assembly.

The Madrigal Singers are a select group of vocalists from the Hi Liters. The group rehearses during their lunch period and free time. These versatile singers sing various types of music, especially Madrigal songs from the Elizabethian period. They entertain at numerous social affairs throughout the year.

MADRIGALS. Row 1: Bill Ehat, Clyde Reynolds, Wanda Sharry, Tommie Greenway, Jinny Davis, Judi Redwine, Joyce Hall. Row 3: Randy Rush, Loyd Allen, Jerry Thomas, Frank Strait, Chuck Collier, Roger Bailey, Ricky Flick, Ramiro DeLaPena, Jerald McMindes, Richard Sant Agata, Kenny Barr.

This organization, sponsored by the Army, provides young men with an opportunity to become acquainted with military regimen. They learn to take orders as well as give them. This program instills in them a sense of responsibility and leadership, and prepares them to adjust easily to rigorous military life. They are responsible for raising the flag above our school each morning, they police all athletic contests, and provide a color guard when one is needed. Their fancy squad drill team performs expertly at such school functions as the P.T.A. Variety Show and Noon Recreation.

OFFICERS. Roger Bailey, major; Ricky Flick, first lieutenant; Chuck Collier, first lieutenant; Loyd Allen, first lieutenant.

The Christmas Formal royalty reign majestically over the first formal dance of the year. Each class selects its favorite boy and girl for its king and queen candidates. These four pairs of students then launch an all-out campaign to sell tickets to the dance, as the number of tickets each couple sells is the criteria by which the King and Queen are chosen.

The Queen of the Blue and Gold Ball and her attendants are all seniors. The candidates are selected by class election and are then presented to a P.T.A. committee at a tea. After meeting the candidates, the judges choose the Queen on the basis of poise and personality. At the Ball, Her Majesty, the Queen, receives a gold bracelet inscribed with her title and name, the date, and the occasion. Each Princess receives a silver bracelet.

Epilogue

In an effort to keep pace with the ever-changing world of Clovis High, we have included in the 1960 Cavalcade something besides the traditional contents. That something, we hope, you will not only see, but feel, as you browse through the memory-laden pages.

Our sincere thanks to the people who have given us their time, advice, assistance, and encouragement: to Mr. Shelton for his help in every phase of our yearbook production; to Mr. Maxwell whose assistance and co-operation on picture-taking days and whose help in getting us out of tight spots was sincerely appreciated; to our printer, Thomas Lithograph, for their advice and suggestions; to Mr. Gegogaine who has done so many extra tasks such as setting up risers for picture-taking days and helping us equip the Cavalcade room.

There are others who we feel have played an important part in putting out this book: the students who typed copy and sold yearbooks for us; the faculty and administration, whose cooperation was such a great help; the business firms who purchased space in our ad section; and, finally, we thank the people whose signatures appear below, our staff.

Remember way back at T-K when we were in the 3RD well, times really flew since then. I've really enjoyed knowing you all these years and I hope I will continue to know you. Lots of luck and success always.

To a sweet girl
in English that's very quiet

Joanne,
Always stay as sweet and good looking as you are and good will never lack friends. Good luck always.

Your friend,
Sharon
